Subject: CM Calendar Update

Happy New Year CM Teachers,

I hope everyone had a rested holiday. As you know, CM testing date is just around the corner. I have sent you the last calendar schedule of events for teachers participating in Path A. Teachers participating in Path B can pick up their Theory Tests after Monday, April 2nd. Path A and Path B certificates will be available to everyone sometime in May. Exact pick up date TBA.

The data base is open for you to input your student's repertoire information. If you are not sure of the correct procedure, I have sent you the CM guidelines for entering your students. Please read this important document carefully. The information you input now will affect your students scheduling as well as their playing evaluation. We can not guarantee that your students day and time can be changed to your request!

Student's repertoire can not be changed after Monday, February 20th. So please input all information correctly, especially the CM required piece along with the correct syllabus page number.

Hope everyone has a blessed and prosperous New Year!
-Sharon Shaheed (CM Chair)
